WHAT ARE THE UNDERLYING CAUSES OF THE GENDER PAY GAP?

The gap does not stem from paying male and female staff members differently. Rather, it is a consequence of the roles males and females occupy within the business and their associated salaries.

The Company continues to be an equal pay employer, committed to equal opportunities and equal treatment of all staff members.

WHAT IS THE ORGANISATION DOING TO ADDRESS ITS GENDER PAY GAP?

The ISL gender pay gap continues to compare favourably with other organisations across the UK economy and within the financial sector.

The Company remains committed to taking steps to reduce the gender pay gap and we are pleased to see that this year's figures are moving in the right direction. Over the past year we have enhanced our maternity pay to provide further support to our working mothers. We will continue to regularly review our policies to ensure that we continue to do all we can to promote diversity and inclusion in the workplace. The Company hopes to see a continued reduction in its Gender Pay Gap.

The Company will also continue to take the following steps to promote diversity and equality in the workplace:

- Ensure that fair, non-discriminatory and consistent recruitment processes continue
- Promote family friendly leave and actively encourage female staff members to return to work from maternity leave
- Provide all staff with the opportunity to develop their career
- Ensure that robust policies are in place, supporting equality at work and reinforcing the expected standards of conduct and behaviour
- Train all staff on Equal Opportunities in the workplace
- Continue to adopt a fair and consistent remuneration approach across the business, providing guidance to managers who are involved in pay reviews to ensure a fair structure

The Company will not exclusively advantage females, but it will continue to remove any actual or perceived barriers its female staff could have been more likely to face than their male colleagues.
